

Thanks to our expert Peer Reviewers

Peer review of a submitted manuscripts is a lengthy process and can be full of pitfalls. As members of the Editorial Board, we rely on our reviewers for more than half of the work carried out in Monaldi Archives for Chest Diseases - Pulmonary Series. The rest of the work is undertaken by our internal staff and the editors, before the files are ready to be published. We are therefore deeply indebted to all our colleagues and friends who have assisted us over the last few years by reviewing many manuscripts.

It is our policy whenever possible to give the authors a chance to improve their work so that it may be eligible for publication. This approach may increase the work required of a reviewer as he or she must not only highlight any problems but may also be requested to indicate ways that they issues may be solved or, if this is not possible, deal with the issues and provide constructive criticism so that they authors understand the limitations of the submitted work.

In this issue thus, we wish to sincerely thank the Editorial Board members and peer reviewers who have contributed to the completed manuscript reviews for Monaldi over recent years.

We appreciate and are deeply grateful for the valuable contributions of all peer reviewers who contributed their time and expertise for their important role in enhancing the quality and scientific integrity of research papers published in Monaldi. It is thanks to them that Monaldi is still a well recognized medical journal.
